

EarthCam Chronicles the Renovation of the National Museum of Women in the Arts

Oct 25, 2023

For the past two years, EarthCam documented the process of renovating the interior of the National Museum of Woman in the Arts in Washington, DC, capturing thousands of high-quality images and panoramas to bring this project to life in a 4K time-lapse.

The space is now larger, artwork has been restored, accessibility has been added and much more.